TV application is approved

The CBC board of governors, sitting in Ottawa, this morning approved an application by Okanagan Television Ltd., to establish a three-city television hookup in the Okanagan.

The board approved the use of channels 2-12-7 for Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon respectively.

The board said plans provide good arrangements for the terrain and conditions in the Okanagan.

Planned is a main studio and transmitter site in Kelowna, with satellite stations in Vernon and Penticton.

Boost in city water rates being studied

City water rates may be increased slightly to offset the jump in the mill rate.

This was learned from authoritative sources as city council burns the "midnight oil" in an endeavor to curtail estimates of various departments.

Due to an $82,582 increase in school expenditures, council is faced with a possible tax rate boost, but it is understood a hike in water rates is favored in order to take some of the load off taxpayers. The water department had an operating deficit of $5,426-45 last year. Council is also facing additional expenditures on extending and replacing mains.

Mayor J. J. Ladd intimated last week that based on present estimates, an increase in the mill rate is considered likely. However by increasing monthly water rates 25 or 50 cents a month, non-taxpayers will also be helping to carry the burden of higher costs of running the city. Present monthly rate is $2.25 with a 50 cent garbage collection fee.

In the other city-owned public utility, the electric light department had an operating surplus of $127,129.28 for the year ending December 31, 1956. If the city did not have this revenue, the general tax levy would be much higher.

A mill is valued at $16,335 for school purposes and $15,295 for general purposes.

It's official!

Spring officially arrives on Thursday, but judging from the mild weather the past few days, Mother Nature has beat the gun.

On Saturday, the mercury climbed to 52 degrees, the highest so far this year. The weatherman holds out for continued mild weather during the next few days.

Fines upped for impaired car drivers

Due to the increased number of impaired drivers appearing in court here, Magistrate A. D. Marshall has again increased the fine. Those who are found guilty of this offence now will have to pay a fine of $150 and costs, he intimated this morning.

At the beginning of the year the fine was $100, then it was raised to $125. Maximum fine is $500 and/or six months imprisonment.

Directors re-elected

Growers discuss operations of two insurance companies

Okanagan fruit growers have both feet strongly entrenched in the insurance business. Saturday they took steps to streamline the operation of both the mutual hail insurance and the mutual insurance companies. The latter group covers automobile, accident and death policies.

Only new member to the board of directors of both companies is John Luthy, of Oliver. The others were re-elected. They are: E. M. Tait, Summerland; D. P. Fraser, Osoyoos; E. A. Titchmarsh, Penticton; N. R. C. Pooley, East Kelowna; C. M. Nettleton, Naramata; J. D. M. Clarke, Keremeos and C. W. Husband, Coldstream-Vernon.

After sitting as a body to discuss the hail insurance business Saturday morning, delegates reconvened in the afternoon to deal with the general insurance operations.

The hail insurance company had damage, and the company finished with an operating profit of $5,874.74, while the mutual insurance company had an operating loss of $9,577. Manager George H. Northern, said the company had weathered the most difficult year in the life of any insurance company—the first and although there was a deficit, this is offset by the fact there is a larger amount in the unearned premium reserve.

Six resolutions were brought before the hail insurance meeting, three were defeated, two were passed and one was tabled.

The first resolution, sponsored by the Westbank local, calling for insurance against dropping of McIntosh apples and pears, was turned down. The Westbank group proposed that anything more than five per cent of fruit on the ground should be termed insurable. It was pointed out that the company's job was to insure against

Presides over fruit enquiry

Professor E. D. MacPhee, who on Wednesday will resume sittings of the Royal Commission investigating the Okanagan fruit industry. Session opens at Okanagan Mission at 2 p.m. Hearings will also take place at Glenmore at 9 a.m. on Thursday, and at Rutland that afternoon.

Professor MacPhee has instructed packinghouse managers to answer a prepared list of questions for presentation at this phase of the enquiry on April 8. Briefs will also be presented by B.C. Tree Fruits and B.C. Fruit Processors' Ltd. during the same session.

Later Mr. MacPhee plans to hold a separate hearing dealing with tariffs. He has agreed to postpone this session until mid-April, due to the fact L. R. Stephens, noted authority on tariffs, is recuperating in California from strain of work.

Jaycees to have island seafood

Jaycees attending the B.C. convention here June 6-8 will be treated to Vancouver Island seafood.

District meeting of Junior Chamber of Commerce held in Nanaimo last week decided each Vancouver Island unit would contribute a variety of seafood to make up a combined smorgasbord for mainland delegates.

Port Alberni has already notified the Kelowna convention committee that its group will be bringing lobsters.

Vic Fuggle, of Victoria, said Island Jaycees will charter a bus for the trip. More than 300 members from Region One—B.C. and Yukon, will attend the three-day conference here.

Request granted

East Kelowna rearing ponds to be developed as a provincial park

The former Kelowna fish rearing ponds will be developed as a class "C" provincial park by the parks and recreation division of the B.C. Forest Service.

This was announced by F. R. Butler, B.C. game commissioner, in a letter received by James Tredegold, president of the Kelowna and District Red and Gun Club.

Located at East Kelowna on the banks of Mission Creek, the 52-acre area has many ponds on it which have been used to raise trout fingerlings for the red and gun club. Operation was discontinued two years ago when the trout hatchery at Summerland was enlarged.

It is expected improvements will be underway this summer. The ponds, in the meantime, will continue as "fishing holes" for children.

Red and gun club has been pressing the government for two years to develop the area as a provincial park.

New blood donor record

A new record was set here in the number of blood donations during the three-day Red Cross blood donor clinic.

Total of 1,060 people responded to the appeal. Quota was 1,000 pints. The previous high was last spring when 1,029 people donated a pint of blood.

"The response was terrific," declared Mrs. Richard Stirling, chairman of the Red Cross blood donor committee. Equally pleased was head nurse Miss Dorothy Fowler, of Vancouver.

Out of the 1,060 total, 234 were new donors. Broken down, the figures are Kelowna 619; Rutland, 136; Okanagan Mission, 76; Westbank, 50; South and East Kelowna, 46; Glenmore, 89; Benvoulin, 19; Winfield, 2; others 23.

Elderly man found dead in cottage

A 63-year-old Westbank orchard worker was found dead in his simple abode Saturday morning.

James Edgar, who lived by himself in a small cottage on an orchard off Sixth Avenue North, is believed to have died Thursday, of natural causes.

When Mr. Edgar failed to show up for work, his employer suspected something was amiss and notified police. The discovery was made by breaking into the cottage, through a window.

The deceased had been residing and working in this district for the past nine years, coming here from Quebec. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Kelowna Funeral Directors.

Apple stocks are gradually being reduced

Remaining apple stocks total 363,947 boxes, according to B.C. Tree Fruits. Apart from Winesaps, only 9,272 boxes of other varieties are on hand, all of which are sold with the exception of a few small-sized Staymans and Romes.

Continental stocks in storage, total 18 million bushels, about four million less than last year.

McIntosh apples from Eastern Canada and Michigan are still arriving on the Manitoba and Saskatchewan markets, but are only in fair condition. Controlled atmosphere Macs have not yet been offered generally, but eastern shippers are hoping to secure $4.50 to $5.00 on these holdings.

Tree Fruits stated about one third of the Winesap crop has been shipped and holdings are substantially reduced from last year. Stocks are in excellent condition.

Two unfavorable factors however is that one million boxes of controlled atmosphere McIntosh are still to be marketed in the east and the fact that Washington market on cee grade Winesaps appears, instead, Washington shippers regard cee grade stock as one of the major problems in disposing of the Winesap crop.

Light spring runoff indicated

According to the snow survey bulletin, issued by the water rights branch, department of lands and forests, threat of flooding in this area during the spring run-off is almost non-existent.

The bulletin says, "The water supply outlook in the Okanagan-Similkameen basin area has improved slightly from that of a month ago. Excess snow is necessary, particularly in the southern half of the basin to ensure a normal runoff."

"Above average precipitation fell during February and temperatures were four to six degrees below normal."

On the McCulloch snow course, the snow water content is 5.3 inches, an inch below the average of the past 21 years. This reading was taken February 27.

Jobless figure drops slightly

At present in Kelowna there are 1845 persons unemployed, with only 16 unfilled jobs. One month ago, February 14, there were 1897 persons out of work, with 17 vacancies.

Total of 1234 men and 611 women make up the jobless figure. Of positions available, two are for men and 14—mostly for domestic help, for women.

There now are 1770 persons claiming unemployment benefits, while 1820 were claiming jobless insurance a month ago.

For the week ending March 8, $31,010 was paid out in claims. For the month of February, $133,270 was paid out.

At the same time last year, 911 men and 650 women were unemployed for a total of 1570. There were 17 jobs available, six for men and 11 for women. There were 1944 persons claiming benefit.

Rural residents meet to discuss centennial plans

General meeting of residents of South and East Kelowna, will take place Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the East Kelowna Community Hall, to make plans for a centennial project and celebration.

Several projects have been suggested, including the improvement to the East Kelowna Community Hall.

RCMP head drive to list all bicycles

Guest speaker

Dr. E. A. Chatwin, MC, D. Pard, a graduate of Queen's University in history and economics, who will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Kelowna Canadian Club Thursday evening. "Success or failure of the United Nations" will be the topic of his address. Dinner meeting will take place in the Anglican church parish hall commencing at 6:30 p.m.

Designed to facilitate early recovery of stolen bicycles, the local detachment of the RCMP will spearhead a drive to register all bikes in the Kelowna district.

Sgt. W.B. Irving, said during the past year there has been an average of one bicycle a day stolen or lost in the Kelowna area. While the majority are recovered within a few days and returned to owners, there is no proper system to ascertain ownership, he said.

Registration of bicycles will overcome the necessity of a licensing system, which is considered too costly. Effective immediately, the police will start recording the serial numbers of machines, along with the owners name, address and telephone number. Information will be recorded and indexed. In this way it will assist locating the owner of bicycles whether the machine is found abandoned or in the hands of people other than owners.

Children not attending school, as well as adults, will be asked to bring bicycles to the police office for examination. Bicycle owners will be asked to notify the police when buying, selling or trading their machines and merchants will also be asked to record serial numbers when making sales.

Sgt. Irving stressed the scheme is entirely for the protection of the bicycle owners. It is anticipated that it can be brought into effect with little inconvenience to those concerned.

The police officer hopes a start can be made on registering bicycles within the next week.

CO-OPERATION NECESSARY: Sgt. Irving said to make the scheme workable, co-operation of the public, particularly school students, will be necessary. Police plan calling at all schools in the city and district to obtain the necessary information. The plan has been approved by the school board secretary.

Children not attending school, as well as adults, will be asked to bring bicycles to the police office for examination. Bicycle owners will be asked to notify the police when buying, selling or trading their machines and merchants will also be asked to record serial numbers when making sales.

Engineer to read thesis on Okanagan Lake bridge

A Vancouver professional engineer, Wilf Pegusch has written a thesis on the construction of the Okanagan Lake Bridge which will be read to the annual convention of the Association of Professional Engineers in Banff this summer.

Mr. Pegusch was also the recipient of certificate No. 3,000, to qualify him for membership on the A.P.E. of B.C. Presentation was made by Col. W. G. Swan, O.B.E., D.S.O., P. Eng., at an engineering graduates' dinner held in Vancouver Friday night. Col. Swan is well-known in Kelowna and did a lot of the preliminary work on the designing of the Okanagan Lake Bridge.

Mr. Pegusch's university graduation thesis was on "Wind Tunnel Testing for the Proposed Kelowna Bridge."

Mr. Pegusch was born in Lemberg, Sask., December 28, 1928 and came to Vancouver in 1934. He attended Moberley and Sexsmith public schools and John Oliver High School. He graduated from UBC in 1942 with a B.A.Sc. degree in civil engineering.

During summers while he attended university, Mr. Pegusch worked as an inspector with the department of public works paving branch. He took a position as a junior engineer with Swan, Wooster & Partners after graduating.

His first task with the firm was the design of a reinforced concrete classroom addition for his ex-high school, John Oliver.

During the past two years he has concentrated on initial estimates and reports on the Second Narrows and Kelowna bridges. Most recently he has been working on the structural design of a floating bridge for the Kelowna site and on the approaches to the Second Narrows Bridge.

Contractors ask city to adopt building code

Kelowna Builders' Association has asked the city to adopt a building code, and that it be made available to all contractors.

The group claims there is a certain amount of misunderstanding regarding building regulations. Although the city has adopted the national building code in principle, it has been in the hands of the city solicitor for some time to write NBC regulations into the local bylaws.

Ald. R. F. Parkinson said the matter had been "kicked around" for nine years. He requested that a full report be tabled at the next council meeting by the building inspector.

Mr. Northern, manager, in giving his report said prospects for 1957 look good. He said he believed the 1957 purchase of hail insurance would exceed the high of 1955. Mr. Northern said policies purchased to date for 1957 are for larger amounts than the same members purchased in 1955.

The company increased its total claims and refunds paid to more than $570,000 since commencing operations and during 1956 added more than $3,800 to the reserve fund.

The average premium for $1,000 of insurance was lowered to $32.43. Mr. Northern said the company decided a new reinsurance plan which will involve saving of $8,000 during the coming year.

Powered by diesel locomotives, each train will carry passenger coaches besides freight and express cars. Main purpose is to speed up the service on fruit moving from the Okanagan and on freight destined to Okanagan centres from the coast and the east.

The mixed trains will operate between Revelstoke and Kelowna. The southbound train will leave Revelstoke after the departure of the last passenger train each night, except Saturday and will leave Kelowna about 1 a.m. arriving at Kelowna early in the morning. The northbound train will leave Kelowna at 1 a.m. each morning except Monday and will arrive at Revelstoke about 7 a.m. and Kelowna at 9:30 a.m.

Present bus service operating between Salmon Arm and Kelowna for passengers making connections with The Canadian or the Dominion trains at Salmon Arm will be continued.

The way freight now operating between Kelowna and Kelowna will not be affected.

Withdrawal of steam-powered locomotives in another step in the railway's plan for complete dieselization of power throughout the B.C. region.

Cautioning in 1953, the CP introduced five diesel switches into its yard operations at Montreal. The (Turn to Page Eight)

What newspapers are for

(The Red Deer, Alta. Advocate)

Most people realize the vital importance of good newspapers. Once, twice or often each week the average Canadian householder in town or country reads one or more newspapers and they usually give him the background of information he needs for normal living. The care, the time, the energy and expense involved in gathering and presenting this information through the newspapers is literally enormous, and its increasing cost is a matter of urgent concern to all newspaper publishers.

Not enough people seem to understand the important differences between reporting and editorial writing. They have difficulty in reconciling a good newspaper report, say, of a political speech with an editorial in the same paper pointing out the many advantages to be gained by defeating the very candidate whose speech was reported so fully and accurately.

What should be emphasized again and again is that reporting and editorial writing are two separate and distinct functions of a newspaper. It is the paper's duty to report the news of its town and district, accurately always, and as fully as circumstances permit. Another and also an important function of a newspaper is to make comment on affairs of the day both local and further afield, and to present suggestions for thought and action on the part of its readers. These comments normally represent the policy of the paper which may or may not be directly opposed to the sentiments of a speaker whose address is fully reported in the same issue.

These twin duties of reporting accurately and commenting intelligently are peculiar to newspapers in certain countries only. Where newspapers are subsidized by governments or where their news comes largely from news agencies which are directed by governments, the situation is obviously different. In Britain, the United States and Canada papers are free to publish what they will, subject always to the laws of libel and, in wartime, censorship. The value of this by no means usual freedom of expression is neither fully understood nor properly valued by the people of this country. It is literally a priceless possession, not of the newspapers as such, but of the nation generally. Any freedom of expression that newspapers enjoy is but a part of that larger freedom of expression enjoyed by all citizens in a genuinely free country like our own. This newspaper freedom is treasured and protected by all good newspapermen who have fought and will fight to preserve it for themselves and for all citizens.

If the day ever comes in this country when editorial comment is controlled by pressures from the governments, large industrial or commercial organizations, or racial, religious or any other groups, freedom in Canada will be dead and most Canadians won't know it. It is that grim prospect that faces newspaper men every day of their working lives and they will fight to maintain their freedom while they have breath in their bodies.

MLA's and ministers pay

Although there are usually complaints from some members of the public whenever a legislative body or municipal council raises the salaries of its elected members, the new schedule of emoluments for the B.C. government and members of the Legislative Assembly does not appear unreasonable. They have been carrying on for many years without any changes in remuneration during a period which has seen salaries and wages in industry and business mount rapidly.

In the case of private members if the present indemnity of $3,600 was fair when it was fixed, then an increase to $5,000 would not appear to be out of line with the economic trend and the increasing cost of attending to the public business. At $5,000 the recompense still is scarcely sufficient to tempt candidates to "run for the money."

Cabinet ministers in particular were long overdue for salary increases. The responsibilities of cabinet rank are vastly heavier than in pre-war days when a minister could attend to his governmental work without having to give up a profession or a business. It long ago became a full-time occupation, with some of the ministers working far longer hours than would be required of a private citizen. Every one of the members of the B.C. cabinet is in effect the responsible head of a multi-million-dollar business; yet up until now they have been paid less than the salary of a junior executive in industry. Even at the new rate of $12,500 their salaries will be far below those of equivalent positions in private employment.

The increase in the salary of the premier from $9,000 to $15,000 is perhaps a little more noticeable, for along with seasonal indemnity it will give the premier annual remuneration of $20,000. There again, however, the reward in times like the present can scarcely be said to be excessive in view of the work and responsibility that the office imposes. The chief executive of a "business" with a budget of $275,000,000 will, even at $20,000 a year, receive only a small fraction of the salaries paid to heads of many private corporations and some Crown operations as well, such as the Canadian National Railways.

O say can you see

We are pleased to note that Mr. John Fisher, executive director of the Canadian Travel Association and indefatigable promoter of things Canadian, plays the same tune sung by this newspaper for many years. It might be entitled "O say can you see." Mr. Fisher reports that the most common complaint he hears in the United States is that Canada is becoming too much like the American tourists' home towns.

Emulation may be of the highest form of flattery, but there is a limit. American visitors do not expect to find Canadians flying United States flags, serving United States style foods in United States style eating places, or otherwise aping their friendly neighbor.

What Canadian would be encouraged to return for a visit to Mexico, for instance, if everywhere he went there he was fed habibant pea soup, urged to look at B.C. totem poles and people dressed as Montezuma, and otherwise surrounded with the things he takes for granted at home? He would much rather see Mexican sights, experience Mexican culture and experiment with Mexican foods.

That is the frame of mind in which American visitors come here. They wish to see Canadian things, with particular interest in the Indian and British forms and customs which are part of our heritage.

They have better Americans in America than we can produce here. Let's not try to compete in what is not our field. Let's be ourselves, and let the curiosity of our southern neighbors do the rest.

Servants not masters

(From The Penitence Herald)

The public interest was extremely well served by the decision of acting Chief Justice Laidlaw, of the Ontario Court of Appeal, in the case of two Toronto men, who sought damages for false arrest and imprisonment.

The judge said, in giving his ruling, that the police have no right to force a citizen to identify himself and have not unlimited freedom to keep up members of the public on suspicion.

This judgment, according to counsel for the police, will make police work more difficult. No doubt it may do so, but the community is not being managed and operated for the benefit of the police. They are the servants of the public, not the masters.

If the day ever comes in Canada when anybody at all may be put in jail because a policeman doesn't like the look of his face or his running shoes (in the case here referred to it was a pair of running shoes that attracted police suspicion), then Canada will be a police state, and that means a complete loss of civil liberties, compliance and approval that Canadians should certainly not accept.

Personally speaking

By Venerable D. S. Catchpole

WHY NOT BE ACCURATE?

One day, not too long ago, I remarked, in a sermon that "Hell is paved with good intentions," and I was quite properly corrected by an old friend of mine who said he had heard that "Hell is paved with good intentions." It is the road to hell that is paved with good intentions.

Since then I have tried to be careful about such things and this has made me doubly critical of others who might be guilty of such sins. I have often heard it said that you can't have your cake and eat it too. Why not, pray? I can and so can you. The correct saying or proverb is that you can't eat your cake and have it too. At least you can't have it twice. You can have it once, but you can't have it again. You can have it once, but you can't have it again.

You will forgive me if I speak of some inaccuracies which come my way in my profession. For example, I hear people say, quoting (as they think) from the Bible that "the root of all evil is money." The proper quotation is to the effect that "the love of money is the root of all evil," which, if I may say so, is a horse of another color.

Years ago, I noticed that people were arguing about a "good" word, which was "a" while to allow a man, and argued from the point of view of fact, was impossible and therefore untrue. Yet they had never noticed that the word "whole" is used in the Bible and even in the New Testament where the word "whole" is used, the correct translation is still "a great fish."

We have allowed Christmas carols to carry on the tradition of "a" while to allow a man, and argued from the point of view of fact, was impossible and therefore untrue. Yet they had never noticed that the word "whole" is used in the Bible and even in the New Testament where the word "whole" is used, the correct translation is still "a great fish."

Who remembers when?

From the files of The Kelowna Courier

FIFTY YEARS AGO—1907
Messrs. Collins and Hewitson have made an important sale in that of the K.S.U. Block to a client in England. They have also sold an acre lot and a residential lot in Parkside, a house and lot on Water Street and a house and three lots on Glenn Avenue.

We understand that Alex. McLennan has sold the fine property on the lakefront opposite Kelowna to R. A. Pease, of Moosomin, Sask. The sale was made through H. C. Stillington, and the consideration about $13,000.

A large quantity of freight now is arriving, and as much of it is building material, prospects must appear bright to our local contractors for a busy season.

FORTY YEARS AGO—1911
Bert Paul has enlisted at Vernon for overseas service in the C.M.R.

Mrs. H. W. Raymer has received the news that her son, Bernard, who left here with the 172nd Battalion, now is in hospital suffering from a strain back caused by a number of nearby and bags falling on him.

An official report has been received by Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Rutland, conveying the bad news that her son, who left Vernon with the 172nd Battalion, but was transferred later to another unit, has been wounded.

The half-dressed and yet long-expected news that the men who left here with the 172nd Battalion, have got into action and are in contact with the German forces, reached here early this week, only to be followed two days later with the news that two local boys were believed killed.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—1927
A report submitted to the city council by W. Crawford, tourist agent, upon the activities during the year 1926, showed that nearly 4,000 foreign cars visited Kelowna. Eight hundred tourists registered and stayed at the tourist camp in city park. Approximately 11,000 cars crossed the Kelowna-Vernon ferry between May and October. About 2,000 people consulted the information bureau operated by Mr. Crawford.

A proposal to change the system of parking to a central strip along Bernard Avenue, instead of along the side of that street, was considered by the board of trade at its monthly meeting, but failed to find approval, and a resolution was passed asking the City Council to have parking lines painted at the street corners.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—1937
Wind through the night closed the ferry passage again and has created some trouble to the Kelowna-Westbank ferry with the chance having to be broken after every trip.

The Kelowna District Mosquito Control Association, held an extraordinary meeting Monday afternoon to consider plans for this year's war on the pest.

In this issue of the Courier, bakers in Kelowna and district have announced a rise in the retail price of bread, up to 10 cents per loaf. Bread was previously selling at three loaves for 25 cents, wrapped, and two loaves for 15 cents unwrapped.

TEN YEARS AGO—1947
Police are searching the Westbank area for an Indian who is believed to have been robbed of a Japanese late Saturday night sending him to hospital with a fractured jaw. Taken from Yasukuck Sokujawa was $80, a case of beer and a bottle of whisky.

Cigarettes, tobacco, chocolate bars and other merchandise amounting to about $80 was taken sometime last Tuesday night from the warehouse of Kelly Douglas and Co., Ltd., 453 Haynes Avenue.

A Rutland man, A. E. Home-wood, has received a thank you note from former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, for a Christmas present, even if the gift was nearly two months late. Mr. Home-wood sent Mr. Churchill two boxes of apples. "But according to the letter he didn't get them until some time in February—unless he didn't bother to reply sooner, and he wouldn't do that to me," said Rutland man.

Community planning association parley to be held at coast

National conference of Community Planning Association will be held in Vancouver September 28 to October 2, city council was informed last week. Representatives of all provinces will attend. It's more than likely Ald. R. F. Parkinson will be the Kelowna delegate.

Polson park concession advocated

VERNON—The application of Steve Patch for a license to operate a soft drink stand in Polson Park during the summer months, caused a good deal of discussion in city council last week. Mr. Patch is seeking permission to operate a stand at the north end of the grandstand, which would be on skids for easy removal from the park during the months it is not in use. He is at present proprietor of the Vernon Groceries, and wishes to operate the park stand as a sideline during the summer.

"The idea appeals to me," Mayor Frank Becker commented, as council deliberated on the application. "It's something which is needed in the park."

Alderman Fred Harwood disagreed. "The answer should be 'No,'" he declared. "It will mean another man will be needed to clean up."

Mayor Becker said that the concession could be run in the same way as the stand at Kalamalka Lake, where the operator is required to help clean up the area.

Alderman Jack McKinnon suggested that the parks department might run their own stand, or that it could be operated under the sponsorship of the recreation commission.

Alderman Courcier said that this idea had been suggested before, but that nothing had come of it.

The matter was referred to the parks department for action.

Control your reflexes, and you'll avoid a lot of trouble while driving. There are some Do's and Don'ts for meeting highway emergencies.

If you're nudged off the road onto a soft shoulder, don't slam on the brakes. Don't try to turn right back onto the pavement. Gently apply your brakes, steer so that your right wheels are about three feet away from the pavement. Then move back into the highway gradually when the coast is clear.

When you round a curve, suddenly proves too slippery for your speed, don't resist the skid by braking and steering out of it. Don't panic and step on the clutch. Always steer in the direction of your skid. Then, accelerate slightly to help your automobile regain its balance.

When it comes to night driving, we've all met the driver who thinks he's the only one on the road. If you're blinded by oncoming lights, there are only two things to do: (1) Slow down and (2) Turn your eyes to the right side of the road.

Finally, if and when a blowout occurs don't jam on your brakes under any circumstances. Don't try to steer out of it sharply. Slow down gradually. Hang onto the wheel until it comes back into line. Then, when you feel your car is under control, brake easily.

Remember, when it comes to driving emergencies, knowing how to avoid them will lessen the worry about getting out of them. Foresight is better than hindsight any way you look at it.

Vernon residents to vote on $250,000 water bylaw

VERNON—Vernon's new water by-law, which will be voted on by city taxpayers sometime this summer, will be ready for city council approval tonight, according to Alderman Fred Harwood, chairman of the waterworks committee.

Total cost of the project to provide a more abundant water supply for the city is expected to amount to $250,000.

At last week's council meeting Alderman Harwood announced that the draft of the bylaw had been approved by the city engineer and the fire department, and only minor details need to be changed before it is presented to the public for approval.

He noted that 60 per cent of the budget for improvements will provide water for fire protection, while the remainder will cover domestic water needs.

Included in the construction covered by the bylaw will be the building of No. 3 Pine Street reservoir; adjustments to the chlorinating plant and outflow from the reservoirs; and replacement of a number of water mains throughout the city. Construction costs on the reservoir alone will amount to $125,000.

Replacing of water mains now suffering from old age will cost between $40,000 and $50,000. City Engineer F. G. DeWolf told council that adjustments to the chlorination plant will involve the city in proceeding with fluoridation at any time if that is deemed advisable.

Original estimate on the cost of the necessary work was $150,000, but elimination of projected work on the Dixon Dam last fall dropped this total to $220,000.

Mayor Frank Becker asked why the total had again risen to $250,000.

Additional replacement of old pipes was responsible, for the increase, the city engineer said.

Complaining about the lack of water pressure in the Hundred Homes and other subdivisions on the hill, Mayor Becker said that he hoped improvements to the water system would take care of this situation.

Mr. DeWolf said that pressure in this area would not be greater but that there would be a stronger flow of water. Up to 6,000,000 gallons of water a day will be available, he said.

Citizens of Vernon use more water than in any city in B.C., but it is hoped that provisions of the bylaw will take care of future needs for some time to come, the mayor said.

"With the possibility that a metropolitan water area will be set up in the near future, I hope this will be the last expenditure as a city for water purposes," he commented.

Police court fines $954.50
Total police court fines collected in February amounted to $954.50, according to Sgt. W. B. Irving, NCO, Kelowna detachment RCMP.

Sgt. Irving noted that conditions were satisfactory from the police angle during the 28-day period.

CUTIES
If you're found yourself in a situation when someone starts to pass you and spots the oncoming traffic too late. As a rule, the offender will try to drop back behind you again. Your cue here is to accelerate. If you can, to give him room. But if he tries to complete the pass, reverse this cue and slow down. This calls for fast thinking.

When it comes to night driving, we've all met the driver who thinks he's the only one on the road. If you're blinded by oncoming lights, there are only two things to do: (1) Slow down and (2) Turn your eyes to the right side of the road.

Finally, if and when a blowout occurs don't jam on your brakes under any circumstances. Don't try to steer out of it sharply. Slow down gradually. Hang onto the wheel until it comes back into line. Then, when you feel your car is under control, brake easily.

Remember, when it comes to driving emergencies, knowing how to avoid them will lessen the worry about getting out of them. Foresight is better than hindsight any way you look at it.

Favorite colors

Generally, decorators are featuring dramatic and unusual color combinations in furnishing rooms with white backgrounds—pinks with oranges, royal purples and pale blues and reds and blues with greens.

With other neutral-toned backgrounds, a woman can choose any of her favorite colors and be confident of keeping in style. These include yellows, pinks, blues or reds.

REMOVING PLASTIC WALLPAPER

The newer types of waterproof, stain-proof wallpapers are often difficult to remove, since they have a plastic coating which does not allow water to penetrate through to the backing. To rectify this situation scratch up the surface of the paper with a sheet of very coarse sandpaper before trying to steam or soak it off.

SHELLACK BEFORE PAINTING

Any surface which has been previously stained should be shellacked before it is painted, to prevent the old stain from "bleeding" through.

LINE THE SHELVES

One way of keeping linen-closet shelves permanently decorated and clean is to line them with laminated plastics or plastic-finished hardboards. Both have smooth, hard surfaces which resist soil and wear.

RUSTY PIPES

Fill the bathtub. If the water is rusty, pipes are not in good condition. Also, check the tub and the wash basin for rust stains.

PLAN 190—This is an NHA approved post and beam home to be built on crawl space or slab. Two bedrooms with living room to the rear for privacy or view, and kitchen on the front. Utility and storage space off the carport. Floor area 1172 square feet plus carport, 60' frontage including carport. Working drawings available from the Building Centre, 1240 W. Broadway, Vancouver. For other select designs write for our new 50 Home Plan Book. Send 25 cents to cover cost of mailing and handling.

Finish required to keep wood clean

One of the functions of a good furniture finish is to provide sanitation and cleanliness. Unfinished wood collects and holds dirt.

Because of its porous nature, dirt, grease and bacteria become embedded in the wood and are difficult to dislodge.

A well-finished wood surface is beautiful and easy to clean.

City refuses trade licence to salesman

City council has refused to approve a trade licence application to Gordon Anderson on behalf of a magazine sales crew.

The licence was issued by the city hall, subject to approval by council. Meanwhile the city and the police received several complaints over the tactics allegedly used by the sales crew.

"In view of so many complaints, I think council has every right to turn the application down," remarked Ald. R. F. Parkinson. Police will be notified.

Within a month following the Hungarian disturbances, the Canadian Junior Red Cross had provided $30,000 to buy winter clothing for young Hungarian refugees.

Your Home and Garden

This spacious, modern kitchen you see above was once a dark, awkwardly shaped room in an older house. The current Canadian Homes and Gardens shows how meticulous planning and courageous renovation have made it as up-to-date as the built-in appliances which equip it. Note the cooking centre surrounded by storage cupboards... the vent fan in the copper hood to draw up smells and steam... the variety of appliances in stainless steel.

Today's kitchen is reaching again for the warmth and friendliness of the kitchen of 50 years ago. It's becoming more livable—a sociable place where children, husbands and pets are made welcome, yet at the same time becoming efficient and workable as never before. The cast iron stove and ice-box have given way to discreet counter-top burners, and ovens and refrigerators that melt unobtrusively into the wall. But the companionable family table is back in interesting new forms. Walls now have bright color schemes and materials like naturally finished wood and polished vinyl tiles. Modern plans are now being dressed up with feminine decoration... the warmth of antiques charmingly teamed with modern efficiency... and built-ins are giving kitchens a new streamlined appearance.

Ten kitchens photographed in the current Canadian Homes and Gardens demonstrate how both new and remodelled kitchens are showing this new trend to "friendlier kitchens". What makes a kitchen friendly?... quietly patterned wallpaper, the warm, comfortable look of cherrywood paneling on walls or cupboards, the added touch of wrought-iron hardware trim. Each adds its own colorful, warm-looking and friendly look to a kitchen... each designed in its own special way to fit the families that use them.

But, no matter what type of kitchen you want, you should know the basic rules for kitchen planning. A work centre for each of the three major kitchen tasks should be provided—a centre for preparing and storing food, cooking and serving it, and cleaning up, with the latter centre located handy to each of the others. Plan your kitchen following one of the basic plans—the U-plan (which is most efficient), the L-plan, the 2-wall plan (for long, narrow kitchens), or the one-wall plan (least efficient of all). Plan ahead for adequate counter, cupboard and storage space. Use a floor-covering such as vinyl asbestos tile, linoleum tile, or linoleum—all are moisture resistant, easy to maintain and fairly quiet. Counter-tops should be chosen with equal care. And when choosing your color scheme, remember that your floor and counter-top are expensive, almost permanent parts of the room, and should blend with a wide range of color schemes.

Edison's incandescent lamp was 110 watts and had a total efficiency of 1.4 lumens; the modern 60-watt fluorescent tube has an efficiency of 73 lumens per watt.

Jr. Packers knocked out of series

Kamloops Junior Elks made a clean sweep of the Okanagan Junior playoffs with four wins and no losses for the right to meet Trail for the provincial championship.

After an 11-7 win over the junior Packers here Thursday night, the Kamloops club trounced the junior Canadians in Vernon Sunday, 16-8, to take the lead in all departments.

Both Kelowna and Vernon were able to salvage only one win each. In a ragged battle here Saturday night, the Kelowna squad dropped a close 8-7 battle to Vernon to end all hockey action except for bantam competition, in the Orchard City for the season.

KELOWNA 7-KAMLOOPS 11
Juvenile Glen Bancroft led the Kelowna attack with a hat-trick and an assist for a four-point total. Wally Wozniak, Norio Sakaki, Bob Gannon and Bruce Harrison got two each, while Bud Schollen earned a hat-trick.

Nick Bulch, Bob Boyer, Dennis Casey and John Urban accounted for other Packer goals.

Only three penalties were handed out in the ragged but cleanly played game by referee John Rizzo.

Kelowna took a 2-0 lead early in the first, but had to settle for a 3-all draw going into the second. Score was 8-5 for Elks at the end of the second, 11-7 for the game.

Colin McCormick, Kelowna goalie, was effectively screened by Kamloops players on most of the goals. Defenceman Jim Tompkins was again a standout for the local squad.

Shots on goal, by Kamloops, 35, Kelowna, 31.

First period: 1, Kelowna, Bulch (unass.) 5:40; 2, Kelowna, Boyer (Olson, Bancroft) 7:55; 3, Kamloops, Wozniak, (Raymond) 11:16; 4, Kamloops, Sakaki (Raymond) 11:48; 5, Kelowna, Bancroft, (Boyer, Redlich) 17:43; 6, Kamloops, Schollen (Harrison) 18:17. Penalties: none.

Second period: 7, Kamloops, Schollen (Harrison) 1:55; 8, Kamloops, Wozniak (Sakaki) 2:33; 9, Kelowna, Casey (Busch) 13:44; 10, Kamloops, Schollen (Harrison) 14:08; 11, Kamloops, Harrison (Schollen, Gannon) 15:22; 12, Kelowna, Bancroft, (Boyer) 15:44; 13, Kamloops, Gannon (Harrison) 19:40. Penalty: Boyer, 16:13.

Third period: 14, Kamloops, Gannon (Schollen, Harrison) 2:22; 15, Bancroft (Treadgold) 8:23; 16, Sakaki (Cassell) 8:50; 17, Kamloops, Harrison (Schollen) 9:33; 18, Kelowna, Urban (Bulch) 17:16. Penalties: Jamieson 1:25, C. Candido, 18:34.

Oilers edged by Victoria hoopsters in battle of youth vs. experience

Kelowna's B.A. Oilers were a scant nine points away from a provincial championship over the weekend, when they dropped their two-game, total-point series to Victoria Lickenson and Dunn's by scores of 63-60 and 76-70.

Superior bench strength and old-time basketball savvy had a big hand in the win for Victoria, with the Oilers going all the way in both games, and using their scanty bench strength sparingly.

Enthusiastic crowds, reminiscent of the old times in Kelowna basketball circles, turned out for both games in the high school gym, Friday and Saturday nights.

VICTORIA 76-KELOWNA 70
The final game on Saturday night was a see-saw battle, with the Islanders once again relying on savvy to hold Bob Radies and Bill Dean down in their successful 76-70 second encounter with Hank Tostenson's B.A. Oilers.

Radies, the lanky bucket man for the Oilers, was fouled out in the first half, and his wing man Bill Martino went on to take the high scoring position again with 22 points in a total of 51 in the two games, three points over Victoria's Norm Baker.

Ross Lander came through in the second half for Kelowna, racking up 14 points, but they weren't enough to topple the old cagers from the capital city.

Baker, and low-scoring centre John Clark were the big guns for Victoria, with 28 and 24 points in the game, and 20 of their total of 52 points were made via the free-throw line.

Kelowna still had the advantage of play, but weren't able to cope with Baker, who used all the savvy gained in many years of floor play to encourage the refs to call foul after foul on him.

In the two games, he sank 24 of 33 free-throw chances, more than enough to win the game. Out of a total of 73 free-throws given the Victoria club, 52 were handed to the two old pros, Clark and Baker. They sank 34 of 52 between them.

Kelowna had a total of 78 free-throws, and sank 42 of them, 26 of them in the final game.

SCORING
Victoria: (total for two games), Baker, 48 (24/33); Clark 28 (10/19); Tooby; Dennison 10 (4/7); Bamford 18; Davies 7 (1/4); Jones 12 (0/4); and Clarkson 6 (0/6).

Kelowna: Radies 20 (10/16); Butcher 6 (0/1); Martino 51 (15/28); Dean 24 (4/4); Eaglesby 3 (3/6); Tostenson 10 (8/9); Lander 14 (6/11); and McNaughton 2 (2/3).

Note—the free throws in brackets indicate throws made/throws attempted.

George Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankees, sometimes looks for intangibles and disregards the statistics when making a baseball deal.

In New York's big trade with Kansas City a couple of weeks ago, Weiss once again took the losing end of the deal. He is Art Ditmar, who lost 22 and won 12 with the lowly Kansas City squad last year. Weiss is gambling that Ditmar will be a winner with New York.

Back in 1954, Weiss dealt with Ditmar's right-handed pitcher, named Don Larsen. Don had won three games and lost 21 for the Orioles that season. But Weiss thought he was a much better pitcher than the record showed. He was right, too. Ask the Brooklyn Dodgers, victims of Don's perfect game in the World Series last fall.

During the regular 1956 season, Larsen won 11 games and lost five. Weiss apparently has been working on the principle that history repeats itself.

Back in 1936, the Yankees took a big red-haired right-hander—Red Ruffing—in a deal with Boston. Ruffing led the league in defeats in 1928, with 25, and in 1929, with 22. He put on a Yankee uniform and a few years later became one of the great pitchers in Yankee history.

There have been several fighters known as "Knockout" or "Kayo" and innumerable "Rockys". There was also the "Michigan Assassin", the "Manassa Mauler", the "Brown Bomber" and the "Brooklyn Blockbuster".

An exception is the deceptively named "Little Bird" that is the monicker placed on Ricardo Moreno, a Mexican featherweight who recently made his American debut by scoring his 31st knockout in 33 bouts. The story goes that Moreno came by his nickname at his bald head and remarked—"he looks like a little bird in the lead."

In his U.S. debut the 10-year-old Moreno knocked out Irish Tommy Bain in three rounds at Hollywood, Calif.

Bain was not the only man to hit the canvas. The referee was accidentally decked by one of Moreno's punches in the second round and it took smelling salts to revive him.

Ok. table tennis team to compete in B.C. playoffs

Norman McEvoy and Howard Burns, of Kelowna, will team up with Vernon's Tony Simnett to represent the Okanagan Valley in the provincial table tennis championships in Vancouver on April 26-27, held in the King Edward High gym.

The distaff side will be represented by Karen and Fay Mendenhall, two Vernon sisters, who will play in both the singles and doubles.

The team of McEvoy and Simnett will be entered in the men's doubles, with all three men taking part in the singles.

Simnett and Karen Mendenhall will team up for mixed doubles, with Fay and McEvoy entering as another mixed pair.

Simnett, sports editor of the Vernon News, was rated at one time as among the top five in the world, and has represented England many times in international competitions.

Flyers lead Canucks 2-1, series shifts to Vernon

Coach George Agar's Vernon Canadians returned from invasion of the State of Washington sporting a 2-1 deficit in their attempt to defend the Savage Cup against high-flying Spokane Flyers.

The Vernon club played three games in the U.S. city, winning one of them and dropping Friday and Saturday night's games back-to-back, with Flyers goalie picking up the series' first shut-out on Friday, when the Spokane club won 3-0.

The two clubs resume the series tomorrow night in Vernon. Following Wednesday night's Vernon victory, the BCAHA was faced with a unique problem, owing to the fact that the Canadians, contrary to the usual attitude of a travelling club, didn't want to play the third game back in Vernon.

Eying the gates in the Spokane Colosseum, thrice the size of the Vernon ones, the co-operative club's manager-coach, George Agar, decided that they would play the third game in Spokane, conceivably giving their fans the chance to see them only once, if the Canucks won the next two straight.

However, the flying Flyers had something to say about that, and came back to hand the Canucks a 3-0 pasting in their second meeting.

In their third meeting, on Saturday night, they battled down to the wire, with the Flyers coming away with a 3-2 win, and giving them the edge in the series going into their fourth game tomorrow night in Vernon.

Flyers have Johnny Sofiak in goal, a young Winnipeg boy who played spare goalie for Vernon a few years back, and played part of the season for Kamloops Elks two years ago before going over to Spokane. Sensational in his youth, the not-so-old net-minder is having a big year with the U.S. club.

Old Hodges, Jack Luncien, and Ralph Luke are three rear guards well-known to Okanagan hockey fans, and they have been augmented by Larry Plante, 6'4", 22-year-old with plenty of shocking power.

First-string line of Frank Kubasek, Carl Curillo and Lorne Nadeau are also vets with plenty of hockey savvy.

Art Jones, high scoring league ace, centers Gordichuk and Dick Beatty. Beatty is new to OSHL.

On the third line another old sweat, Doug Toole, centers two new bloods, Johnny Zahara and Rocky Crawford.

The Allan Cup champions will be using much the same line-up the Okanagan fans have watched this season.

SPOKANE 3-VERNON 0
SPOKANE, Wash. (CP) — Four veterans of British Columbia's senior hockey battles emerged as the top threat to the continued hockey supremacy of the Vernon Canadians Friday night as the Western International Hockey League Spokane Flyers whitewashed the Okanagan Senior Hockey League champions 3-0.

The win dethroned the best-of-seven B.C. Savage Cup finals at one game each, Vernon won the opener Thursday 4-2.

The outstanding first-period net-minding of John Sofiak along with the combined play of veterans Carl Curillo, Lorne Nadeau and Frank Kubasek, gave the flyers their first win in the series.

Sofiak, who was called upon for 25 saves, only two more than Hal Gordon of the Allan Cup champion Canadians, made 10 of them in the first period to set the stage for his shutout, second of the season for the veteran goalie.

Centreman Frank Kubasek grabbed Curillo's pass from close in for the first Flyers goal and a 1-0 first-period lead, and Kubasek added the insurance marker after a minute in the second.

Curillo again picked up the assist and both he and Kubasek earned assists on Lorne Nadeau's third-period counter.

Eight penalties were called by referees Vic Lindquist and Dick Davis, seven of them going to the Flyers.

Letter to Sports Editor

BASKETBALL COMMENTS
Sports Editor,
Kelowna Courier
Dear Sir:

Most comments from a sports announcer are taken with no rebuttal. However when, in a petulant tantrum a "so called" sports announcer unjustly besmirches the good name and integrity of a coach and team, such an outburst must be answered.

On the 8:10 a.m. CKOY sports broadcast of Thursday, March 14, the announcer shamelessly abused his position by his ill-advised and spiteful castigation of Rutland fans, parents, team and coach.

He was at liberty to say what he wished of the fans. The rabid Rutland home team crowd conducted itself in the same manner as has been characteristic of the Kelowna home team crowd for years. Such conduct is not above reproach but why pick on Rutland? His vicious attack on the team was most uncalled for and unjustified.

Is this man mature or gentlemanly enough to apologize for his error? I think not because he has never apologized to the referee for his own most unsportsmanlike conduct in the game of March 11. Nor did he, as a sports announcer mention the fact that he, as coach of the Melkie Teddy Bears, was thrown out of the game for heckling the referees. It is evident that he uses, or should I say abuses, his position to serve his own capricious moods.

We in Rutland are very proud of Miss Minette, coach of the Rutland Senior "B" girls entry, whose integrity and good sportsmanship are above reproach. Our girls team (whose average age is under 10 years) is to be complimented on its good sportsmanship on or off the floor regardless of the spiteful accusations of the coach of the Teddy Bears. As a mother of two girls on the Rutland team I say to Miss Minette and the team "Well done, your courage, grit and good sportsmanship in face of great odds deserves praise not abuse, from any player, fan, coach or announcer.

In closing I congratulate the players of Melkie's Teddy Bears for their success in the series against our girls. I wish them the very best in the forthcoming provincial finals.

Yours truly,
MABEL B. CAMPBELL

Sunsets meet Teddy Bears following upset victory

Meikles' Teddy Bears will be hosting the Vancouver Sunsets for the provincial championships here this Friday and Saturday, instead of the Victoria team.

The Sunsets won out over Victoria in a surprise victory which made them the coast champions, and gave them the right to take on the Teddies for the championship of B.C.

It will be the first time for a women's hoop championship to be played in the Orchard City, another in the long string of firsts set this year in Kelowna's basketball picture.

Bebb meets Topham in finals of Ogopogette "A" event in curling club tonight at 8:15

Mrs. F. H. Bebb of Kelowna skipped her rink into the finals of the Fifth Annual Ogopogette Bonspiel in Kelowna this morning, with a 12-10 victory over the powerful Tegar rink from Salmon Arm.

M. Topham of Peachland downed Chapman of Kamloops in the other "A" event semi-final, 11-7, to advance into the finals against the Bebb rink.

Final games in both "A" and "B" events are slated to be played tonight at 8:15.

The B event moved into the Kelowna vs Hethrington, Prince George; Donnelly, Kelowna vs Young, Summerland; Dundson, Summerland vs Skinner, Kelowna; Gregory, Kelowna vs Watson, Kelowna.

Contests in the "B" event were: Chapman (Kamloops) vs Burch (Kelowna); McInnes (Summerland) vs Stevenson (Kelowna); Owen (Kelowna) vs Ferguson (Summerland); Tegar (Salmon Arm) vs Smith (Kelowna).

Semi-finalists in the "C" event were Hill of Penitence vs I. Topham of Peachland in one half; Owen of Kelowna vs Dundson of Summerland in the other half. The finals in this event were slated for 2:45.

The "D" event eight were playing this morning, with the finals planned for this evening, the time contingent on the winners.

Only the coasts will know that spring is here

Both west and east coasts will bask in above-average temperatures for the next 30 days, according to the revised weather map of the U.S. weather bureau. But the majority of Canada's citizens will look in vain for signs of spring. From Alberta to Quebec the forecast is: cold and probably rain and snow.

THE WRAPPER IS A PRESERVATIVE

Don't remove the "cellophane" cellulose film from fresh meats before placing them in the refrigerator. According to comparison tests just completed by manufacturers of the film, meats from which the transparent wrapper had been removed became discolored, lost moisture, and took on odors in 24 hours. By contrast, samples left in their packages showed no noticeable changes in either appearance, weight or odor.

Sidney Risk reviews "Oklahoma!" from viewpoint of drama critic

Editor's Note: Sidney Risk, drama director, department of extension, UBC, is currently in Kelowna directing and producing "Our Town" for Kelowna Little Theatre. Mr. Risk agreed to review "Oklahoma!" from the professional viewpoint. While Mr. Risk's remarks might seem a little critical, they were expressed for the purpose of assisting local thespians with any further musicals they may produce.

By SIDNEY RISK

When an outsider offers an opinion on a local or personal affair, even when invited to do so, our reaction is frequently defensive and sometimes resentful. If the opinion is at all critical. But the position of the outsider is often an advantage in an attempt to arrive at an unbiased verdict. His opinions may be less colored by personal knowledge of hidden difficulties and vicissitudes. He will have no particular loyalties, no prejudices. He can judge solely on the matter as it is presented to him. Such is the position of the writer in evaluating the production of "Oklahoma!" as presented last week in the Empress Theatre.

CONDITIONS DIFFERENT

By the same token it would be nonsense to compare this production with what we may have seen; to say that it was not as good as the original in New York, or as good as the TUTS in Vancouver. The general conditions are altogether different, and on too many points there is no basis for comparison. The only yardstick in evaluating the performance of any play, opera, or piece of music is the extent to which the performers have carried out the playwright's or composer's intentions.

"Oklahoma!" was first produced in 1943, it launched a whole new concept of musical comedy. It presented a form that relied on a stronger, more plausible plot instead of the older, rather silly "book." It discarded the characterizations to the point where the singers had to be actors as well; in some cases more actors than singers. It welded the music and dialogue together until the songs arose logically out of the action and characterizations.

The production was a triumph. It presented a form that relied on a stronger, more plausible plot instead of the older, rather silly "book." It discarded the characterizations to the point where the singers had to be actors as well; in some cases more actors than singers. It welded the music and dialogue together until the songs arose logically out of the action and characterizations.

He also invented a depth device. It is a horizontal length of copper wire, a perpendicular length hanging from a hook at one end. At the bottom is a steel weight which denotes the depth by swinging back and forth at the rate of one foot in depth for every swing. It is quite accurate, too!

Mr. Carswell claims, if you want a good well, you should have it installed in a month containing the letter "R". Artesian wells are not found except where the earth formations make them possible. The gravel-point must reach past the hardpan to a porous water-soaked area, or stream, underground. Below this water again is a layer of non-porous or watertight ground. The water seeps in at a higher level in the hills and is under pressure. Consequently, when the well is driven in the valley flat, the water naturally gushes out, or overflows, according to the pressure.

The old French province of Artois (from where the word artesian was derived) has been famous for its flowing wells since the 16th century. Some wells are nearly a mile in depth and occasionally the internal temperature of the earth has been ascertained by testing artesian water, which can be cold or very warm, depending on the depth. The deepest well in the Wood Lake area is 110 feet, whereas the shallowest is around 50 feet. Artesian wells are always ready to serve you, without contamination and we have many thanks for the two men who first discovered the flowing wells of the Wood Lake area.

Smoke eaters at Vernon are honored

VERNON — Two Vernon firemen added their names to the honor roll of long service recently when they were presented with gold medallions by Fire Chief Fred Little. The men, Frank Leck and Earl Gray, received the 20 year service distinction at a formal firehouse ceremony, thus adding their names to the list of 10 men that have been so distinguished since the fire department's inception in 1891. Beginning with a silver pin, symbolic of five years' service, the fledgling fireman graduates to a gold pin after 10 years before the final attainment of a gold medallion at the end of 20 years of the department.

Members receiving the five and ten year pins were: 10 year service — R. Hale, R. Conley, K. Little and J. Ingile; five years — M. Morice and J. Ford.

The gold medallion is given to the volunteer or permanent member of the force.

more time, he could have built up the macabre quality of Jud, especially in his acting and singing of the eerie "Lonely Room." Another innovation brought about by "Oklahoma!" in 1933 was the integration of ballet into the actual production. The dancers, too, be actors as well. In this respect the male dancers were better than the women. Between them Dave Chapman and Mel Barwick brought out some of the suspense which lies in the ballet story. Marlene Nothman danced charmingly, but did not project the character of Laurey in her dream.

In weighing up the merits and demerits of this production in an attempt to decide how close it came to being what "Oklahoma!" should be, one concludes that it came moderately close. Its merits were many and its flaws were due not so much to a lack of talent, nor even a lack of staging facilities, but rather to an uncertain conception of the play as a whole. To rectify this may mean more time, more artistic effort and perhaps even a little more money, but if those responsible for the production will give more attention to this point next time, they could hit the bull's eye.

Paramount is showing "Search for Bridey Murphy"

In one of the most unusual film sequences yet accomplished in Hollywood, "The Astral World," the state of suspension in what might be described as spiritism, will be shown in Paramount's filmization of the astonishing, best-selling Morey Bernstein book, "The Search for Bridey Murphy," now showing at the Paramount Theatre.

The eerie special effects occur when Ruth Simmons, played by Teresa Wright, discloses under Louis Hayward's hypnotism that her previous existence as Bridey Murphy included a sojourn in the spirit world before her rebirth.

In addition to its style and form, "Oklahoma!" in performance must project its own exuberant atmosphere of the broad plains with the fresh breezes blowing across them. These points of style and atmosphere are inherent in the script and must be understood by the director, the designer and the musical director, although everyone involved in the production should be aware of them.

It was chiefly an inconsistent appreciation of these points which led to what flaws there were in the Kelowna performance of the play. At times, "Oklahoma!" as conceived by Rodgers and Hammerstein was there on the stage; at other times it lapsed back into the stilted formula of old-time musical comedy. Between them, the director, the designer and the musical director, although everyone involved in the production should be aware of them.

Considering the special limitations of the stage, Frank Bishop handled his performers well enough for all practical purposes, but with little exception, the persistent grouping of the choruses in regimented lines on each side of the stage is too conventional, even old-fashioned, and small repetitive movements given some actors became distracting. The other hand, the dramatic lines of the plot was well controlled with most of the climaxes receiving their full attention. Only the action scene lacked a little in suspense and the moment when Jud is wounded was too hurried to make full impact. The costumes captured the atmosphere, although more attention should have been paid to the balance of color. The scenery did not quite convey a sense of fresh and open space. Even on so small a stage, this could have been achieved with fewer large elements and a more flowing line. The first scene, for example, was too cluttered, combining the simple realism of the porch, the highly-colored impressionism of the backdrop at the time of the nineteenth-century detailed realism of the trees. In another scene there was the cut-out foliage border which belongs to the era of "Floradora." However, the "smokehouse" setting was a minor triumph. Here the designer and painter produced a backdrop which, combined with good lighting, helped greatly to put across the sombre mood of the scene.

In most cases, the individual performances were satisfactory; some more so than others in creating a characterization and singing and acting with reasonable conviction. Bob Renaud, Floria Holmes and Red Hughes revealed the best understanding of what was required of them. Bob Ensign and Elsie Stanewicz sang acceptably, but their acting lacked an inner vitality. Edythe Walker also sang well, but her performance, although energetic, was forced and she failed to get at the core of Aunt Ellen's character. Ted Escobar made creditable effort and only occasionally allowed his youth to show through.

In the sinister role of Jud Fry, Harold Feltman showed considerable promise. According to the program he stepped into the part on a week's notice. One feels that with

MAGAZINE TACTICS

The Editor, Kelowna Courier

Dear Sir:

Yesterday our Chinese tenant complained bitterly, that a young woman had come to his house and would not go away until he gave her $3.50. He had not the faintest idea what the money was for and he can neither read nor write except to sign his name. Apparently he had unwittingly subscribed for one year to a magazine which he could not read and could not need less!

This woman's signature was prepared by the word "contestant" and if it was a contest for extracting money out of illiterate old Chinese gentlemen I feel sure she will rate highly.

I would be interested to have some information on what, under these circumstances appears to be a "racket". Surely no reputable publication could allow its circulation in such a disgraceful manner.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Berard with her husband, the late Alexander Berard came to Kelowna 69 years ago, travelling from Kamloops to Kelowna by wagon.

There are nine children in the family, 23 grandchildren and 46 great grandchildren. With the exception of one son and daughter, all of Mrs. Berard's family live in Kelowna.

Mrs. Michael Hall feted at coffee party

The Aquatic ladies auxiliary recently held a coffee party for Mrs. Michael Hall in the Aquatic Lounge. All members of the ladies auxiliary turned out to show their thanks and appreciation for the many things Mrs. Hall has done for the association. Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Debra are leaving today to make their home in Los Angeles.

Noted producer, Sydney Risk, will direct next play of Little Theatre, "Our Town"

"Our Town," the most popular play in two decades, is Kelowna Little Theatre's latest offering for its forthcoming spring production, March 28-29.

Sydney Risk, K.L.T.'s guest director from the University of B.C. extension department, received the choice enthusiastically. Mr. Risk, himself one of Vancouver's most competent directors, with a wealth of experience behind him, has had more than a nodding acquaintance with Thornton Wilder's successes.

"Our Town," a warmly sympathetic view of people like us in a town like ours—has been produced at least three times by UBC. It has achieved an international reputation, where other more sophisticated plays have folded early.

It's not difficult once you've seen it to explain its phenomenal success. It's down to earth without being too folksy. In laughing at it you laugh at yourself—a little dryly perhaps—but with genuineness without a trace of cynicism. Then too, it's staging is so simple, and so refreshingly different that it becomes a slice of life, breathing real air in an enormously vital way. Perhaps you had better see it for yourself.

"The Matchmakers", Wilder's latest success, now in New York for its second year, received acclaim in the 1935 Edinburgh Festival. "Skin of Our Teeth", another Wilder play in which Talullah Bankhead starred, enjoyed a long New York run.

Will celebrate anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott, Laurier Avenue, Kelowna, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Thursday. They were married in Strathclair, Man., where they farmed until recently. They have three children, Mrs. McKee McCartney of Van Nuys, California; Mrs. Thomas Wyatt and Jack Scott of Kelowna. There are three grandchildren.

Adjudicator

Mrs. Betty Farrally, of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, who will adjudicate the dancing at the Okanagan Musical Festival here April 29 to May 4, is not a stranger to the Valley, having accompanied the ballet on its two appearances in Penticton. She has a thorough knowledge of dancing and is very experienced in the art.

Mrs. Farrally was born in Bradford, Yorkshire, England, and trained and performed extensively in that country, studying for the Royal Academy of Dancing diploma with Gweneth Lloyd, who has adjudicated at the valley festivals several times. Mrs. Farrally studied further with Margaret Craske, now one of the instructors at the ballet of the Theatre School in New York. She came to Winnipeg with Miss Lloyd in 1938 to establish the Canadian School of Ballet and has been mainly responsible for the technical development and achievement of the principal dancers of the Company and also for the high standard of excellence of the Corps de Ballet.

Kelowna student will enroll in dental faculty

Arthur Spensat, son of Henry Spensat, 222 McCurdy Road, Kelowna, has been accepted to the 1957 freshman class in the College of Medical Evangelists School of Dentistry at Loma Linda, California.

Spensat will enroll in early September as one of 50 freshman dental students at CME. The CME freshman class will represent a part of the several thousand students who will begin their four-year course in the nation's 44 dental schools this fall.

As a student of dentistry at CME, Spensat will spend the next four years in classes, laboratories, and in dental clinics. He will be there to learn one thing—how to help restore good dental health to those who are in need of it, and with the best knowledge and facilities known to modern science.

The college of Medical Evangelists operates one of three dental schools in the State of California. The college is located on two campuses—Loma Linda (near San Bernardino) and Los Angeles. In conjunction with its school of medicine and other related schools, CME operates a hospital on each campus and is owned and operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Spring baseball training is even older than the major leagues.

Just after the American Civil War, some wise fellows of that era decided on spring training. It happened this way, says baseball historian Lee Allen:

When Cincinnati went through the season of 1869 without losing a game, the city of Chicago became upset. Chicago civic leaders in 1870 voted to get a team that would beat Cincinnati. Tom Foley took charge of the club. They players decided to get in some practice before regular play began, so they went to New Orleans. They were in good shape when it came time to play in the north.

That season the Chicago team beat Cincinnati twice. A year or so later other teams started to train in New Orleans in the late winter and early spring.

The spring training camps nowadays are crowded with players and club officials, and their wives and children.

YANKEES' POWERHOUSE

Now to the 1957 season. As usual,

New York Yankees are called to take the American League pennant without too much trouble. Brooklyn Dodgers seem to be the pick in the National League.

The Yanks, working out under the Florida sun at St. Petersburg, are still seeking to increase their power, as if they needed more. The players Manager Casey Stengel is reported to have in mind for his opening day lineup next month

whipped a combined total of 230 home runs in 1956.

The projected Yankee lineup, with home runs, is: Marv Throneberry, first base, 42; Bill Martin, second base, 9; Gil McDougald, shortstop, 13; Bill Skowron, third base, 23; Woodie Held, left field, 35;

Mickey Mantle, centre field, 52;

Hank Bauer, right field, 26; Yogi

Berra, catcher, 30.

Throneberry and Held played for Denver, the Yanks' farm club in the American Association, last year.

partment, 13, Bill Skowron, third

Berra, catcher, 30.

efficiency and economy realized

during a costly supervised trial period convinced the CPR that diesel-electric power would eventually replace the steam power which for many years, through wood, coal and oil burners, had powered its trains.

VETERANS RETIRED

Historic, diamond-stacked wood-burner, No. 374, now resting at Kitilano Beach, powdered the first through trans-continental train from Montreal to Vancouver in 1957.

In the winter of 1950, the CP road-tested diesel power on a through trans-continental run from

Montreal to Vancouver, and again the superiority of diesel-electric motive power over steam was convincingly demonstrated.

The days of steam power were numbered from that date, and subsequently almost all CPR locomotives have disappeared from the B.C. district.

Oil-burning steam power is being released to CP's Alberta district to replace coal-burning locomotives.

Transfer of the old-fashioned locomotives will continue as rapidly as diesel-electric units become available and until the entire B.C. district has become dieselized, a railway spokesman said.

Hail insurance

The proposal was defeated.

SOFT FRUITS

The proposal, also sponsored by the Osoyoos local, called for lower insurance premiums on soft fruits such as peaches and pears, which are not damaged by hail as much as apples.

One grower from that area said in 1955, his apple crop suffered a loss of about 35 per cent, while an orchard of pears belonging to his neighbour only received 11 per cent damage.

In 1956 he said, his apples were again hit by hail, suffering a 19 per cent loss, while there was no damage to the other growers of pears or peaches.

This proposal was carried, and will be studied by the new board of directors.

An extraordinary resolution re-

by-laws, sponsored by Pentiction, called for a decrease in the number of delegates attending the meeting.

At present, one delegate or director attends the meeting, representing 50 growers. The Pentiction proposal called for one person to represent 100 growers, so cutting down on company expenses.

This motion was defeated, as the general feeling was that the more persons attending the meetings would be able to give a better cross-section view of the growers problems.

It was also pointed out that most locals did not send as many delegates as they could have.

Another Pentiction resolution atttempted that persons who held shares in the company, and wished to sell them, could negotiate with the purchaser for the price.

This subject was brought forward as some growers who buy insurance for years contribute to a surplus fund, and if they retire from the growing business and sell their shares, they would have no claim to monies in the fund.

This resolution was tabled, and the company will seek legal advice, and present a recommendation at the next annual meeting.

CASH DISCOUNT

A resolution from the floor, calling for a cash discount for growers who pay for insurance coverage, was unanimously carried.

At present, growers ask for coverage, then the premium is paid by the packinghouse receiving the fruit, and the amount is deducted from the return to the grower.

The annual meeting of the Fruit

Growers' Mutual Insurance Co.

was held in the afternoon.

The slate of directors, elected during the morning session, was unanimously chosen as the directors for this group.

Of four resolutions presented,

two were defeated, and two carried.

The first, sponsored by the Vernon Coldstream-Lavington

Armstrong local, asked that growers' wives be covered in the personal accident section of the company's casualty policy.

This was brought forward as on smaller farms, the growers' wives do a large amount of work during the picking season. At present, there is only a clause in the policy covering the death of a wife.

This motion was defeated.

A second resolution, sponsored by the Salmon-Arm-Sorrento local, called for a reduction in the miniimum premium for growers who have low payrolls.

Company manager G. H. Northan pointed out that at present the minimum fee is $10 for payrolls under $4,000 and 25 cents for each additional $100. He said if the premium was any lower, it would not be profitable to write a policy for employers liability and voluntary compensation.

This motion was defeated.

A resolution, sponsored by the Pentiction local, called for the company to enter into the field of medical assistance insurance.

It was turned down on the grounds that this type of insurance is covered by credit unions and MSA, and also is being studied by the federal government. The feeling of the meeting was that the company could not supply such a policy at any lower rates which are currently being offered.

The final resolution, calling for the company to study the field of medical expenses, was also carried.

During the coming year, the directors will also study the possibility of moving the site of the meeting to a different location each year.
